we again hear from you. "Departed saints on leaving this earth go to be with the Lord. Now, if Christ comes down and reigns on the earth, then the saints in departing to go to the Lord go from where the Lord is, to where he is not. Or else they must be constrained to come back again to earth and feed grossly with men.

What a droll idea! Why do they depart? Ans. Because the Lord is not here. But when he returns," God will wipe away all tears from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying-neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away."

One thing more, Doctor. Where do you find anything in the Bible about the diet of the saints during the Millenium When you expressed so much holy horror at the idea of the saints leaving heaven, had you forgotten that it is written, "Them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with

"And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you: whom the beavens must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God bath spoken by the mouth of all his hely prophets since the world be gan." Acts, 8, 21. "This," you remarked, " is the second coming in the fesh of the man Christ Jesus. Now, after a critical examination, I find that the word translated 'restiintion' should be 'final accomplishment,' or 'grand issue." He is not then to leave heaven until every thing is accomplished that the prophets have spoken. They have spoken of the Millenium, therefore he will not come until after the Millenium." But this will not do, Dr. In the first place the vast majority of scholars are against you as to the meaning of the word.

In the second place, suppose we adopt your rendering-how will the passage read? "Whom the heavens must receive until (not the 'accomplishment,' nor the 'grand issue,' but) the times of the accomplishment," &c , the times of the 'grand issue.' Now, what will be the accomplishment, what the grand issue of all things, &c? what but the setting up of Christ's glorious Millenial Kingdom? Th heavens then must receive Christ until the time comes for this grand issue-until the time arrives for Him to come "whose right it is to reign"

"If he comes down during the Millenium, does he re-main any longer than the 1000 years? If he does, he stays over the specified time, and will be compelled to retreat beover the specified time, and will be compelled to retreat be-fore Gog and Magog when they carry all before them. Or, does he ascend at the end of the 1000 years, and then come again at the general Judgement? If so, then we have three distinct comings in the flesh. This is a specimen of the difficulties attending the Millenarian view." I answer— First. You cannot, Sir, find a text in the Bible which says that Christ shall reign only 1000 years. That in Rev. xx. simply states the fact that after this number of years has elapsed another great event shall occur. Secondly. The Bible does not say that Gog and Magog will "carry all before them;" on the contrary it says that when they attempt to do this " fire shall come down from God and devour them." Thirdly. If this is a specimen of its difficulties, then Miltenarianism is the simplest doctrine imaginable. Fourthly, Doctor, how long will the Judgement continue! Will it be only tweaty-four hours! You very courteously remarked in your discourse, "as to the Judgement lasting 1000 years-it is an assertion which can only be met by a denial." This was summary, but hardly satisfactory. I think you will find it a difficult matter to prove from the Scriptures that it will occupy less time. A word or two in reference to Mr. Miller.

You said.—"He shows an amazing ignorance of the subject. He takes Daniel's vision of 23(0 years, and, although there are several dates at any one of which the vision may there are several dates at any one of which the vision may have commenced, he selects one without assigning either rhyme or reason—nothing but his own arbitrary will. In this way I will prove to you that the world was destroyed in 1754, and again in 1762; and that it will be destroyed in 1843, and in 1847, and in 1868! Won't it be effectually demolished! (Laughter.) He blunders upon his dates without any reasons; he makes the 'little born' refer to Antiochus, and he says that the Roman Empire is not destroyed yet! (Laughter.) Why, such ignorance would disgrace a school bey." (Renewed Laughter.) Oh! Dr. Brownlee, you lack amazingly those fruits of the Spirit—" love, gentleners, meekness," &c.

Behold a Christian!—and without the fires

The founder of that name alone inspires— Though all accomplishment, all knowledge, meet To make the smining prodicy complete— Whoever boasts that name, behold a cheat! You amused your hearers, sir, but let me ask you-Do you consider the coming of Christ to judge the world, and to execute vengeance upon his enemies, a proper subject for jesting? Excuse me, if I speak plainly. I am the son of a Minister, and have never forgotten the parental injunction never to trifle about serious things. I confess, sir, I am grieved at the impiety, I am disgusted at the inconsistency. I suspect the sincerity, and I am amazed at the hardihood of those Ministers of the Gospel who make the momentous and solemn sentiments and scenes of Religion and Eternity the mes for wit or sources of merriment. "Is this the path of sanctity? is this

"To stand a waymark in the road to bliss?"

EVERY STATEMENT WHICH YOU MADE IN REFERENCE TO MR. MILLER ISUNTRUE.

You said that "he assigns for the selection of his data no reason but his own arbitrary will." You know, or you should have known that, on the contrary, many passages of his work are consisted with the contrary, many passages of the work are consisted with the contrary. the Bible and history, designed to PROVE that there is pro priety in the selection which he has made. If you have read what he has written, you must have known this, and if you did know it-the inference is very plain. If you have not read what he has written, you should have remembered that one wiser than Dr. Brownlee has said "he that anwereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto

Von said "He makes the 'little horn' refer to Antiochus. Says Mr. Miller p. 45, "This description agrees with the history of Rome, and CANNOT be applied to Antiochus as some have supposed." If you did not know this your ignorance is inexcusable :--if you did, Prov. 25. 18, " A mau that beareth false witness against his neighbor is a maul,', &c. Equally incorrect was the remark that "he supposes the Roman Empire is not yet destroyed." To use the very courteous language in which you addressed Dr. Smith "the thing was never dreamt of until you fabricated it and palmed it upon him." See "Miller's Lectures."

In conclusion, Sir, let me suggest for your consideration, the following from the writings of St. Paul:

"I therefore beseech you that you walk worthy the vocation wherewith you are called with all lowliness and merkness: putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another. Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister the hearts of the process. A kinety worth to be process. which is good to the use of earlying, that it may minister grace to the hearers. A bisbop must be blameless—he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the davil. In all things shew thyself a pattern of good works; in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, succeity, sound speech that cannot be condemned. Speak evil of no man; be not a brawler, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men."

I am, sir, very respectfully, &c. (It-) J. A. G.

Markets-Carefully reported for The Tribune. FRIDAY P. M.

ASHES-There is a further small improvement in both descriptions, although there is not a great deal doing. We notice sales of 500 to 600 bbls good Michigan at $4 75, and sales of fair Genesee are reported at $4 78, but not well established. The largest holder, however, of Flour in market will not sell below $5 00 for Genesee. We quote Michigan $4 75 a 4 674; Ohio $4 811 a 4 94; Genesee 4 874 s 494, with very great want of buyers. We notice sales about 2000 bushels old at 54, weight, and 58, measure, for the East; 1000 bushels new Deleware sold at 48, measure, and 700 do Jersey Yellow at 53 a 54. Rye continues dull, and we notice a forced sale of 500 bu shels at 56c in the slip. We quote 58 as the fair price. River Oats are declining, and we quote 26 a 29; Canal 30 a 32. We notice a sale of 1000 bushels good Southern Oats 231;

CITY INTELLIGENCE. LAWYERS' DIARY .- This Day, December 17 .-SUPERIOR COURT-No. 45, 22, 92, 96, 99, 65, 39, 59, 44, 82 FRIDAY, December 16. U. S. CIRCUIT COURT .- Before Judge Thompson and Betts. SENTENCE .- Samuel A. Suydam .- The Court stated that this case was one of considerable importance. It had been brought by the Government, upon the application of a Foreign minister, and came within the law of Congress framed for the especial protection of ministers from other nations The testimony, on one side showed that the prisoner had committed a most serious assault, while, on the other, i avers that the complainant had been guilty of improper con duct toward the prisoner's wife. The Court had found difficulty in drawing correct conclusions from the testimony, as it was greatly at variance. Still, whatever might have been the circumstances of the case, the suit was instituted on the application of a foreign minister, and it is therefore between the two governments. This Court is anxious to carry out both the letter and the spirit of the law, and afford assurance to foreign nations that their representatives will be fully protected. Circumstances, however, might arise, where there would be oppor tunity for mitigation, and it has been decided by a judge in Pennsylvania even of justification, such as where the minister was the assailing party. The Court, in all cases, will fully carry out the spirit of the law, which is conformable to the general law of nations. The Court, after remark, was about proceeding to Suydam then addressed the Court for some time in forcible and feeling manner. He said that he bad suffered much from these soits, and had not seen his family for a a year and a half. On his return to Carolina from New-York, in 1840, his wife told him that she had been repeatedly insulted by Signor d'Alvear, and had forborne speaking to him about it lest it might lead to trouble. He arrived again at New-York in August. He did not seek d'Alvear, but met him on the evening of the 6th Sept. at Nibio's Recollecting the stain he had attempted to cast upon his wife, he caught him by the collar and inflicted upon him several severe blows. He called upon his God to witness that he did not strike him with a knife. During his remarks be alluded to the severity of the law as regards a citizen, visiting him with severe punishment even while seeking to protect the sanctity of his own hearth. He thought it well to protect foreign ministers, but that the foreign libertine should not be allowed to proceed with impunity. He urged the Court, in its decision, not to pass a sentence upon him which would deprive him of his civil rights. He spoke not only for himself but for those who were dear to him, and whose destiny is involved in his.

The Court made some remark in reply, and concluded by sentencing Suydam to pay a fine of $500 and to be imprisoned in the County Jail for 6 months.

Wm. Thorn, who plead guilty of an attempt at revolt, and has already been in prison for some time, was adjudged to pay a fine of $15, or be imprisoned 80 days more.

Decisions .- In the case of Hillyer, a bankrupt .- Appeal as to whether a fraudulent contract four years ago could . bar a discharge under the act. The Court decided that it could not. Judge Thompson said the Court would not go into the details of the act for, from all appearances, it is not likely long to live. Robt, McCalmont, and others vs. Susan Lawrence .- Mo-adjournment, in relation to the trial of Justice Parker. -Mr. Patterson, on behalf of the People, concluded his argument, and the Court again adjourned to Tuesday next at 4 o'clock. COURT OF SESSIONS .- Before the Recorder and Judge Lynch. TRIAL OF JOHN SPARKS, ALIAS LATHAM, CONCLUDED.

CORONER'S OFFICE .- A CASE OF NEGLECT BY PARENTS -The Coroner held an inquest this morning on the body of Margaret Jane Mungoys, a little child of four years of age, at the City Hospital, whose parents reside in the rear bas ment of No. 14 Orange-street. They are both of intempera e habits, and were in the daily habit of leaving their children alone, the mother resorting to street begging to raise money for the purchase of liquor. On Wednesday afternoon last, the little girl's clothes were set on fire by her brother, over a year older, when she rushed into the street, enveloped in flames, and her screams attracting the attention of a person passing, he rolled her in the gutter for the purpose of extinguishing them. She was then conveyed to the Hospital, and died from the effects of her barns. The parents, after a strict search made for them by the Deputy Coroner, were not found. Verdict-Accidental burning.

by Epes Sargent, is now ready.

The best proof of the extraordinary attractions of this beautiful work is the fact of its having, in one week, attained a circulation unprecedented in the history of periodical literature. Although, until Blackwood's and Fraser's are extinct, the publishers will not, like some of their contemporaries, claim to present "the leading Magazine of the world and of the age," they may yet with satisfaction reworld and of the age," they may yet with satisfaction refer to the following opinions of the Press, in various parts of the Union, as an evidence that Sargent's New Monthly is not surpassed, either in its engravings or its literary contents, by any similar work published in the United States: No Magazine has shown a stronger array of contribu-ors than this, or has furnished embellishments of a more attractive character. It cannot fail to command a wide attractive character. It cannot fail to command a wise circulation.

It bids fair to take a high if not the highest stand among the beautiful illustrated monthlies of the North. The two leading engravings are admirable, the print of the fashions is tasteful, and the other illustrations are spirited.

"Here is a volume which, with regard to the style and interest of its subject, will take at once its place with Robinson Crusoe, and the Swiss Family Robinson. It is founded on the following incident:—The pupils (some fitty in number) of a boarding-school on the English coast, are induced on a holyday to enter a smuggling sloop by a young villais, who has a grudge against some of the boys. The rascal then cuts the cable while the scholars are below, and springs on share. The sloop drives rapidly to sea. Some of the boys are dashed overboard by the waves, but the remainder, after suffering every hardship, are saved from immediate death by the crew of another smuggler, who carry them to the West Indies among the buccaneers. They are finally landed on a desert island and left to shift for themselves.—The remainder of the volume is filled with their history while on the island, and unlike the heroes of the two works we have named with the present one, their exertions are not always crowned with success. The book is written with much ability, and some of the details of the sorrowings and sufferings of the almost helpless unfortunates are harrowing in the extreme.
